With Parsons and Reilly the ex-Lima battery working against them, the Cigarmakers defeated the Marion Diggers in a fast and pretty contest. Sunday afternoon at San Felipe park. A heavy rain at the noon hour prevented the usual Sunday crowd in attendance, but a good number of the fans braved the weather and were treated to an excellent exhibition of the national game. The outfield was muddy and the infield rather heavy, which caused a delay in getting the game started. Charlie Pickett was on the mound for the locals and twirled his customary clever game, holding the visitors down at critical moments, and holding his position perfectly. The visitors secured one hit in the second inning, when Williams landed on the sphere for a single, but died on first. In the fourth Boheneringer landed for a two-bagger, and was sacrificed to third. Williams put a hot grounder to Pickett who threw Boheneringer out at the plate, spoiling their chances for a run in that inning. There was nothing doing then until the seventh, when Farrell, Williams and Pickett scored, and Williams being caught at the plate on the return of Staley's drive to Alex Reilly, two bingles in the eighth availed them nothing, as Pickett remained steady, but in the ninth Williams put a clean three-bagger to the center garden and scored on Reilly's sacrifice fly.

The locals got busy in the second, when Foutz doubled to right, and was sacrificed to third by Captain Pohl. Newham then laid the fielder the first base line and the fielder doubled to right. In this ended the run getting for the locals until the seventh, when Pickett doubled to left. Pickett singled to center and Reilly singled to center, which was followed by a sacrifice and sacrifice fly which netted two more runs.

In the seventh inning, Ray Miller, the local right guarder went after Williams' drive to his territory and sustained a broken finger. He was hurried to the city in an auto, as there wasn't a physician present at the park. Watkins supplanted him in the field and accepted three difficult chances.

A ROYAL RECEPTION

Given Dr. T. H. Campbell by His Old Parishoners
in Bellefontaine.

HE ADDRESSED

A BIBLE CLASS

Comparing Lincoln to Christ and His Mother to the Virgin Mary.

When Dr. T. H. Campbell, of Trinity M. E. church, went to Bellefontaine last Friday night, he certainly fell among friends, and of the type he is making for himself in this city, concerning his reception and lecture at the Bellefontaine Examiner says:

It must have been highly pleasing to Dr. Thomas H. Campbell of Lima, once a resident here, on Friday evening, when he faced an audience in the Methodist church which had assembled because of his presence as the evening's lecturer and because Bellefontaine's friendship for him never grows cold but flames into warm-hearted love every time he is announced to appear.

The entertainment was cordially given by the W. W. Fisher Bible class to the other classes of the city and indeed to the public in general. With the steady downpour of rain previous to the commencement of the program there was disarrangement of plans on the part of many people who had planned to be present, but as it was a splendid audience greeted Dr. Campbell, and as Mr. Fisher said "what was lacking in quantity was abundantly made up in quality." Mr. Fisher appropriately made the introductory announcement and he gave three reasons why Dr. Campbell had been selected to speak. He remarked that Dr. Campbell sustained a sort of paternal relation to the Fisher class, being here at its birth, and secondly, that the title of the lecture appealed to the members of the class and thirdly, the personality of the speaker had much to do with the choice. He spoke of the great mistakes that all famous men make in their lives, and referred to the removal of Dr. Campbell's home from this county to Allen county as an emphatic mistake.

Dr. Campbell arose to reply and also to the occasion and remarked that it was like coming from Sodom to Jerusalem. He refrained from indulging in reminiscences, the temptation being great, but at once commenced to lecture on "The Religion of the First American." There probably never has been given in this city a more thorough scholarly address than was given by Dr. Campbell on a Sunday evening. Built up like a wonderful force of power, the lecture was skilfully dovetailed in its points until every feature pertaining to the subject in hand was forcibly presented with the exact amount of argument for victory in carrying conviction as to the Christianity of Abraham Lincoln. At any one previous to hearing the lecture had the semblance of a doubt as to Lincoln's abiding faith, that doubt must certainly now be dispelled.

Dr. Campbell divided the religious life of Abraham Lincoln into four periods. The childhood faith by which he was converted before he was ten years of age brought about by his devout mother, whom he compared with Mary, mother of Jesus, the second period brought doubt and perplexities of mind not peculiar to Lincoln alone, the third period the early faith and lessons of youth returned to Lincoln, and lastly the feeling for the need and protection of the Lord came to him.

Dr. Campbell dwelt with some length on these points and then spoke of Lincoln's cultivation of the graces of the spirit, honesty, frankness and ingenueness. The speaker referred to Lincoln's non-membership in church, but told of his utterances in "God Bless all the Churches." Dr. Campbell gave as the essential, the crucial things of Lincoln's religious life, many things in which he believed. In brief, they were named as prayer, God as a guide for man and belief in God as man's help and comfort. The two central and predominant elements of Lincoln's life, or as Dr. Campbell worded it, "the two poles between which his whole life arose" were as follows: the persuasive righteousness of Almighty God and the divine mission in which he was called. Dr. Campbell said that the life of Abraham Lincoln reminded him more of the life of Jesus Christ than of a common man. In closing he spoke of his devout love for Lincoln and of his early knowledge of him through books. He gave a beautiful and touching piece of fiction which became a true fact before his conclusion. So earnestly was it presented, holding a portion of a handsome flag which was torn, Dr. Campbell related how he had always as a child associated the stars and stripes with this man and how he had come to believe that the red stripe signified Lincoln's blood which had been spent for his country.

In conclusion he quoted relative to this wonderful personage: "For this (Lincoln) I came into the World." Dr. Campbell's countenance fairly beamed with the light of his subject and the whole theme was presented in a polished manner.

A NEW CHARGE

Will be Accepted by a Popular Minister.

The many Lima friends of Rev. John Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Gomer, will regret to learn that he has resigned his pastorate at Gomer and will within a short time remove to Erie, Mich., where he will continue in the work of the church.

A short time ago Rev. Roberts was invited to Erie to preach with a view to receiving a call from the congregation there. He accepted the invitation and preached for the Erie people two Sundays. The impression that he left was most favorable, and today, while in attendance at the meeting of Lima Presbyterians, he received the following telegram:

Rev. John Roberts,
Care Lima Presbytery, Lima, O.
The session, trustees, church, Sunday School and congregation say—Come.

The call was presented with such unanimity that Rev. Roberts has accepted it and in a couple of weeks expects to be at work in his new field. Mr. Roberts has been in Gomer nearly a year and he has done excellent work for the church during that period. The church to which he goes is larger and the charge comes as an advancement. His friends in Gomer and in the other congregations represented in Lima Presbytery wish him abundant success in his new field of labor.

HEAVY DAMAGE CASE

Of Hicks Against Electric Light Company Comes to Trial

FOR THIRD TIME IN COMMON PLEAS.

Plaintiff Sustained Loss of Arms in Discharge of Duties.

The case of Joseph A. Hicks against the Lima Electric Railway and Light Company, came to trial for the third time in common pleas court Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The plaintiff was employed as a lineman in December, 1902, and while in the discharge of his duties was working on a pole immediately north of the county clerk's office near the court house. He fell across two electric wires and both arms were burned off, which he alleged was due to negligence of the defendant in improper insulation of the wires.

Plaintiff sued for $50,000 damages and secured a judgment for $30,000 in the first trial, which verdict was set aside by Judge Cunningham.

In the second trial the plaintiff secured a judgment for $35,843. The case was carried to the Supreme court, and was reversed on the charge of the court, as being held that the court failed to charge the jury that where there are two ways of an employee doing an act in the discharge of his duties, one more hazardous than the other and the employee chooses the more hazardous, he does so at his own risk. Another ground for reversal was that improper argument was made to the jury.

Adjournment was made at ten o'clock until one o'clock for conference of attorneys. They seem to have reached an agreement, for Halfhill, Gale and Kirk, representing Hicks and W. B. Ritchie and W. H. Lee for the Ohio Electric are engaged this afternoon in drawing the terms of settlement which so far are reserved from publication.

Belgium Tremens. Sheriff Vanganten was called to the vicinity of the Main street bridge Sunday evening about 8 o'clock, where he found four men holding Ed Leffel, who was suffering with a severe attack of delirium tremens. Leffel was taken to the county jail and Dr. Landis summoned. The patient is in a serious condition.

Commissioners. The county commissioners are in session today on an adjourned view of the Lutz ditch in Marion township.

Rufus Oglesby, William Bobson, W. B. Pickering and Martin Miller each entered a plea of guilty and were assessed $5 and costs. Vernon, was arraigned in mayor's court Monday morning and entered a plea of not guilty. The case was set for hearing Thursday morning and bond fixed in the sum of $500.

CHARMING WEDDING

Celebrated Sunday at Cromer Home.

A very beautiful little wedding took place Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss C. C. Cromer, on South Jameson avenue. The contracting parties were Ida M. Cromer, formerly of Lima, and Ralph Good, of Marion, O. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock Miss Eda Fetter played the wedding march and the bridal couple entered the parlor. Rev. D. F. Schultz, after dwelling for some moments on the solemnity of marriage, united them with the beautiful ring ceremony.

After an elaborate dinner and a happy afternoon spent with their friends the young couple took their departure for Marion, O., where they expect to make their future home.

Only near relatives and immediate friends were present. The gifts were beautiful and valuable.

EASTERN STARS MET

EXERCISES WERE VERY PLEASING

And Addresses Made Were
Appropriate to a Memorial Day.

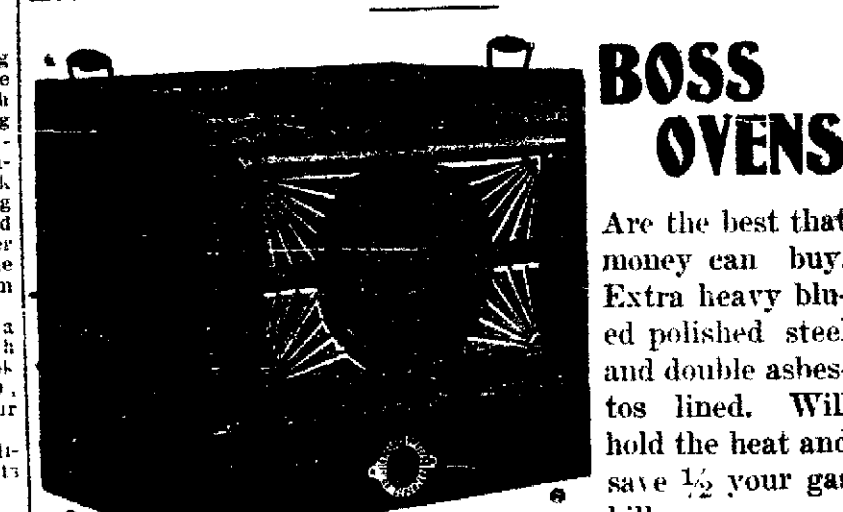

The memorial services held in the Masonic temple on Sunday afternoon in memory of the Order of the Eastern Star, were largely attended by the living members and their friends. The excellent program prepared was carried out exactly, with a slight change in the order of the different numbers.

Past Worthy Patron P. A. Lown, read the list of names of those in memory of whom they gathered and the roll now includes nineteen names, several having been added the past year.

Miss Helen Badenu sang very pleasingly and the addresses made by Dr. Bowsher and Rev. Gekeler were very appropriate to the day. The latter talked particularly of the great incentive to right living such a day as that was. There are people who die and are forgotten even by those most closely connected with them simply because they had done absolutely nothing worth remembering. Others lived in the hearts of everyone who came in contact with them because of their deeds that were worth while.

Dr. Bowsher also talked of the value of leaving a pleasing memory behind us, and the fact that only the

Young Women at Coast Resorts Will Carry Parasols to Match Their Bathing Costumes

An essential feature of the vacation wardrobe is the smart bathing suit, and as the young women at coast resorts this summer will carry parasols with their bathing costumes, these parasols are just a tiny bit smaller than the sort carried for street use. Mrs. Frances H. Jackson, of the credit of being the originator of the fashion for carrying a parasol with her bathing suit. At the summer home on the

PRINCESS BATHING SUIT IN NAVY BLUE SILK.

Massachusetts coast, where she takes her dip in the Atlantic during the season, she has often been seen using a small red parasol as a protection from the glare of the sun.

The best type of bathing suit this season is conspicuous for its simplicity. Women of refinement do not care to make themselves prominent among a crowd of beach loiterers by wearing dresses that are apt to invite unpleasant criticism as they appear in dark suits run in the latest mode and wear with them attractive accessories. At Palm Beach early in the spring the different styles of bathing suits are tried out and the winners decided upon. This year the blue ribbon went to a suit of black satin (princess in design), worn with a wide Dutch collar of Irish crochet lace.

In fact, all the frocks for the ocean dip worn at this fashionable resort were made of some dark colored satin or silk with a satin finish, and these materials, together with panama cloth, mohair and taffeta, are popular this summer. There is, too, a new charming "shod water tunic," from which many smart bathing suits are being made.

The princess style is first favorite, although the tucked blouse attached to dart fitted bloomers over which the carefully hung shawl skirt is smoothly adjusted, is well liked. The very attractive suit seen in the illustration is of navy blue silk, trimmed with blue bands of blue and white striped silk. White pearl buttons of a generous size make the closing down the front. A bathing cap, long, loose, an envelope of crocheted lace, now part of the bathing outfit, also a pair of high waisted like boots, silk stockings matching the suit or trimmings and a becoming little headband.

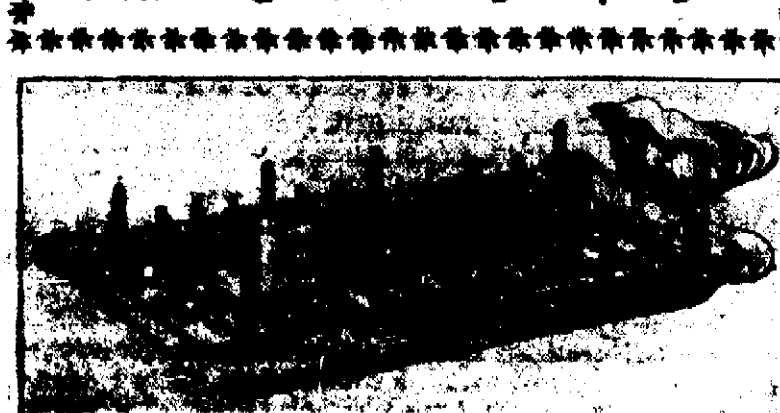

In such attire one can run the gauntlet of hundreds of critical observers and come off victor.

SKIRTS ARE SHIRRED.

The designers have decided to put the full skirt on the market in as many ways that it must be accepted. The plaited one has already gained a wide showing, but some of the newer ones are shirred at the waistband in the old-fashioned way. Others are cut on with two rows of shirring to a little

New Way of Serving Asparagus

AN ASPARAGUS DISH.

That delicious vegetable, asparagus, is about as hard to serve gracefully as it is to eat in the same much to be desired fashion. The silver-spooners, realizing this awkward state of affairs, have put on the market an asparagus set in silver—real or imitation—with dish, rack and sauce boat in one, with the tongs neatly fitted into their own place at the side of the dish. When the asparagus stalks are done to the queen's taste and laid side by side on the rack, the sauce boat filled with melted butter. It is time to bring into requisition the tongs for lifting the stalks to the serving plates.

UNIQUE GARDEN FURNITURE

The fact for serving meals out of doors during the warm weather is steadily gaining ground with housewives who have a garden or porch suitable for such al fresco feasts. Now, for a small party of four out of doors, the very unique set of furniture seen in the illustration is especially desirable. Count anything more compact and attractive for this purpose.

WHY Woman's Work Is Never Done

THE average woman doesn't know how to work. She doesn't know how to take a vacation. This remarkable statement was made by a man recently. It is very true. Look at the way a woman works! No wonder that old proverb had a run: Man's work is from sun to sun. Woman's work is never done. Humph! and likewise huh! of course it isn't, and it never will be, either, because the dear thing is a natural born putterer, and putter she will until she dies. Women who accomplish things have to overcome this weakness for detail first, and I'll warrant you that every now and then they have a relapse and feel hereditarily tugging at their skirts. However, to return to the subject, notice how a man works. During several hours he resembles a huge dynamo. If any person interrupts or gets in the way, woe to that person's head! And then, all of a sudden, like calm after the storm, comes complete rest. He lounges; he smokes a cigar; he exchanges jokes with the office boy. You would size him up for the fastest man on earth, and you would make a big mistake, for he is only storing up strength for the next spurt. He is relaxed, tension absolutely, and that makes him a first class machine for all of his days. But is a woman's work enough to do this and slip off the belt, figuratively speaking, and give her mental machinery a chance to cool off? Not she! She keeps her overtaxed organism at full tension the whole blessed time, and she putters, she fumbles and uses up whole days doing simple stunts she could put through in one single effort if she knew how to manage herself. Poor woman! She has been the worrier of the centuries, and half the time she has worried over things that never came to pass. That's the story of it. There are thousands of graves that have been caused by unrelaxed tension, by needless and senseless worry. A woman takes her work home with her. She does it over and over in her mind. She eats with it, she sleeps with it, and she grows narrow and crabbed and stupid over it. And the men all this time is growing brighter and stronger, physically and mentally, because he has learned how to let go, because he always has time to go out to dinner with a friend, to hear a musical comedy, to take a night of occasional and to think of something else besides the eternal grind. Vacation Means a Change. Then take the subject of vacation. What does a vacation mean? A dress parade? Sitting around and being bored to death? No, my friends, we understand that sort of thing all year round. It means a complete change. If you live in the city, it means the country; if you live in the country, it means the city; if your life is narrow and dull, it means excitement; if you are lonely, it means interesting people. Ask yourself what is the very opposite of your mode of life and take that for your vacation. It will be just what you need. The other day I spent a week and at the home of some very charming people who are decidedly intellectual. As you may have gathered from my story style of writing and thinking I'm not. The short story magazine style of reading suits me perfectly. I buy all those magazines every month. Well, to return to my subject, there on the table was every kind of new thought and intellectual magazine printed. There was nothing frivolous as I just had to take what there was or sit with my hands crossed. There I was, up against it. Well, my dear friends, I lay flat on my back in the sunshine, and I read first one magazine and then ten or twelve. I devoured them as a child devours candy when its system needs sugar. I read all. There was a mound of solid thought literature which almost buried me. When I finally arose—and let me tell you, I never felt so rested, so invigorated, in my life—I could feel a tickling sensation in my brain when long closed thought cells had opened out and expanded. I felt all a thrill and a tingle, because I had given myself the dearest kind of a mental vacation—just the opposite of what my much abused brain was getting all the time. Go you and do likewise!

Some English Traveling Hats

The American woman is often seen at her best when in traveling costume. Like the English tourist, she has made a business of combining practicality with a certain amount of taste. Her neat, natty tailor made of lightweight woolen or some of the linen or crash materials this summer will be topped by a stylish close fitting hat. Here are three serviceable hats for traveling wear, turned out by one of

New York's smartest purveyors of English millinery, that have recently been sent over from dear old London. Among them is the new sailor of black straw with an adjustable hat band. As seen in this cut, this band is of greenish ribbon shot through with gold, but the great advantage of this trimming is that it can be changed to match the gown. For the woman who has passed the sailor hat phase of life the stunning small model of black chip will be found most attractive. The dome crown is just large enough to be pretty without being cumbersome, and the flat bow of black velvet ribbon and the full white egret are exactly the right trimming in the right place. Black and white combinations in millinery are very swaggy, and, reversing the order of things, the white leghorn hat adorned with a rather generous black velvet bow where the shape turns up seemingly at one side and its panache of stiff akrets is exceedingly good style. Plumes are not much in vogue for traveling hats except in pheasants wings, tails and the ordinary quills. A number of the new models have straw trimmings shaped into large pointed leaves or bows.

What Milady Would Like to Know

HER COMPLEXION.

THE inequalities of the gifts of the gods are borne in upon a woman whose little housemaid has a complexion of peaches and cream, the texture of the skin like that of a baby. The mistress does not begin to have as good a complexion, and the point that most troubles her is an inner conviction that the little maid does not wash her face as often as is considered correct by persons who have been properly brought up.

"I know Mary doesn't wash her face every day," she told a friend recently. "I am morally certain of it, and look at her. I wash and wash and keep as clean as any person can who lives in a filthy town, and look at me. I look clean all right, but my skin is thick, and I've about as much color as a tan shoe. What's the use of trying to live up to moral standards when one has such a shining example of the uselessness of washing constantly before one?"

WRINKLES FROM HEAVY HATS.

Have you noticed how women are wrinkling their foreheads this summer in the effort to balance their large, overshadowing hats on their heads and to prevent them from toppling over entirely? The cartoonist who recently sketched a modishly gowned girl with her face so completely hidden by her big hat that a line from Vesta Tilley's popular song "I Don't Know Where I'm Going, but I'm on My Way," told the story and exaggerated the case very little.

It is absolutely true that unightly appearing on the forehead of women who affect this kind of hat, and if they continue to wear these enormous shapes work to counteract the lines must be done daily.

And it is massage—a special stroke—that alone will smooth the corrugated flesh. This movement, contrary to the usual custom, must be downward, and there is a knack in not rubbing so severely as to stretch the muscles, while the motion acts upon the surface. There is no rule, however, by which the precise amount of effort can be given. It must be left to the discretion of such worker. The forehead at night should be rubbed thoroughly with cold cream, and then the tips of the fingers, put in a row at the edge of the hair, should be drawn down evenly and firmly to the brows. This must be done repeatedly until the creases caused by hours of wrinkling have been entirely removed. For the final two minutes it is well to rub with a light rotary motion. But an ounce of prevention for these forehead wrinkles is perhaps better than a pound of cure. Here is the way one sensible girl tries to get over the difficulty: Before putting on her big hat, she takes a separate roll, such as is used for the foundation of a pompadour, and pins it securely to the middle of the head, making no effort to cover it with hair. The roll forms a cushion through which the pins are run. The advantage it has over the other rolls on her head is in being tight. Of course it does not show beneath the hat.

THE COAT SHIRT WAIST.

Linen shirt waists—the new "waist" style—in natural color or white have double breasted fronts with the upper corner turned back and buttoned like a lapel, three big pearl buttons fastening the waist and small collar

TOO CRITICAL.

A Munich servant girl has given notice to quit because she says that her mistress persists in playing classical music for a couple of hours every morning, although she has not the slightest notion how it should be interpreted.

NEW HAT HOLDER.

Taking care of a hat when one is not wearing it is always some trouble, and putting it away in a box, from which it must be taken out every time one wants to use it, seems a great bother, especially when one is in a hurry. Various hat holders have been contrived, some useful and some not much of a success, but the best one yet seen and the most steady is a strong spiral coil of heavy wire, the bottom being larger around than the crown of a hat and the top much smaller.

A girl can lay these spiral wire holders and make them look very pretty and dainty herself. The wire must be covered with ribbon to match the closet fittings. The covering is done by fastening the end of the ribbon securely to the bottom end of the wire, then winding the ribbon closely around the wire all the way to the top. Each end should be finished with a bow. The closets should be furnished with as many of these holders as its owner has hats in use.

IRISH CROCHET CRAVATS.

The wonder is that more women do not take up this pretty handicraft. Irish lace cravats are easy to do, and the work goes rapidly, and, as every one knows, this lace is not only fashionable, but is one of the most durable lace made. Narrow insertions of Irish lace in the simple "waist" style are set into blouses of the smart Japanese craze, and with these blouses are worn cravats in the same stitch with a tiny border pattern along the edges.

SERVANTS Have Apartments

Set Apart for Dressing

Apartment for the domestic help at the Mackay country estate at Roslyn, N. Y., there is a small apartment for the servants in the wing of the house.

The administrative building of the estate is planned for the comfort of the twenty-five men and women who form the staff of the Mackay estate. It has been the goal of the Mackay family since the first of the century to have their private domestic help, including the butler, valet, and a certain number of attendants, all settled in one place.

In most large establishments like this, the domestic help is housed in a separate building, but in this case, Mrs. Mackay has taken the initiative and is the first mistress of a large household to add a sewing room for the exclusive use of the maidservants. A large, well lighted apartment at the top of the house has been set apart for this purpose. The room is plainly but appropriately furnished. A sewing machine occupies one corner. A large cutting table is in the center of the room, and about it are grouped comfortable rocking chairs in which the seamstresses may rest and sew between hours. In convenient places are to be found ironing boards, electric irons for pressing work and all the latest sewing conveniences.

The electric light system is especially fine on the Mackay estate and is under the direction of an expert German electrical engineer. It is said that by pressing buttons in different parts of the house, the entire estate may be brilliantly illuminated.

FRUIT RECIPES.

BLUEBERRY JOHNNYCAKES.

This is an old fashioned genuine New England recipe for a most delicious concoction. One cupful of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half cupful of molasses, one cupful of cornmeal (the golden meal), one-half cupful of flour, a little salt. When well beaten and ready for the quantity of crushed berries over the cake, then add another layer of cake and top off with whole berries. Cover the top with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream just before serving.

PINEAPPLE PUNCH.

For a delicious fruit punch mix half a can of shredded pineapple with the juice of three lemons and four oranges; add two sliced bananas, a cupful and a half of sugar and turn into a bowl with a large piece of ice. Let it stand until time for serving. Then turn in a pint of mineral water.

MRS. FAIRBANKS A PURE FOOD CHAMPION.

Few women are more interested in the pure food matters than Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the former vice president. She spoke strongly on the subject at the last meeting of the Indiana State Federation of Women's Clubs, saying, among other things: "It is criminal for purveyors of meat and fast purveyors to adulterate the food which is taken to sustain life and which mothers must give to their children. You women are doing right to take up the fight for pure food, and when these men come to realize that women will have none of their poisonous adulterations, then, at last, they will come to their senses."

When One Goes Traveling

CONVENIENCES EASILY CARRIED.

Mrs. William Chase, it seems, has an eye for the practical comforts of life as highly developed as the artistic perceptions of her celebrated husband. The traveling pillowcase of rubberized silk was made from her designs for use on her peregrinations during the summer. The case contains in a small compass an eiderdown pillow, a shawl of lightweight wool and a cap of thin rubber to protect madam's hat in a sudden shower. Stout handles of the rubberized material that can be slung over the shoulder make transportation of the case easy, leaving the hands free. Rubber hat covers can be purchased separately in all the large shops and are a wonderful convenience, as they fit comfortably into an average sized shopping bag. When on the hat the effect is not unlike that of a puffed storm it is but the work of an instant to whisk the cap out of the hand bag, slip it over the chaparral and continue on one's way with the happy consciousness of having at least the price of a piece of millinery.

AT FIVE PERCENT.

Safe, Secure, Convenient For Savings and Deposits.

Nine years ago The Lima Home & Savings Association began paying 5 percent for deposits in any amount with privilege of compound interest. On account of the safe and secure manner in which such deposits have been handled, many people of large and small means, have accepted the very liberal opportunity of having their funds invested at a rate that is worth while, until nearly $353,000 have accumulated earning 5 percent. These deposits are used by this association only for loans on city and farm homes in Lima and vicinity. Nothing but first mortgages are taken to secure these loans; ample insurance is required for the Association's protection as well as frequent reduction of principal.

Another feature of safety is the annual examination by the state authority to which this Association is subjected. The last examination was completed on the 20th of May, 1909, and included an investigation of all of the Association's investments and securities.

All persons with money to lay by at the liberal rate this Association has been paying for many years, who are seeking a place where safety, security and convenience are in every transaction of its business, are invited to its office in the Masonic building, west of the postoffice, Lima, Ohio.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 28.—The first real violence in the car strike situation occurred shortly after 1:30 today when fourteen alleged strike-breakers were chased away from the Rankin car barns by union sympathizers. A fusillade of shots greeted the strike-breakers as they emerged from the barns. County Detective John Engler was badly beaten up by the crowd at the entrance of the barns. Men in a nearby place joined in the chase after the strike-breakers, running them a mile.

A long drawn out parley between Mayor Magee, who threatens to use his plenary powers to end the car strike, and the executive strike committee of the Automobile and Conductors' adjourned this afternoon without any solution being reached. The meeting at the instance of the mayor proved to be but a partial success.

The union men are reported to have agreed upon all of the major's pertinent suggestions for a peaceful settlement of the affairs with the exception of the reinstatement of discharged men, after proper hearings.

Cincinnati, O., June 28.—A Cincinnati detective agency in response to a request for men to take the place of striking Pittsburgh street car employees has engaged 125 men, who, it is said, will be sent to Pittsburgh as soon as a telegram is received ordering their departure.

Where She Sized Up.
Dr. Charles F. Aked, of New York, recently gave the young women of his congregation some excellent advice about matrimonial extravagance. Compared with the English girl, the American girl is a great spendthrift. Shortly after the return of the fleet two naval officers were talking about their wives. Naturally they used nautical terms.

"What a dear little craft your wife is," said the first.
"Dear and little," did you say? She is dear all right, but there is nothing little about her. Why, she is the biggest revenue cutter I have ever seen."—Cleveland Leader.

Half a League.
The class had just finished reciting "The Charge of the Light Brigade."
"Now," said the teacher, "can any one present tell me the meaning of those words, 'Half a league'?"

Up shot the hand of Thomas Jones, aged eleven, football captain and indomitable footballer.
"Please, sir, it means they couldn't get enough clubs to make up the full league."

Not a Bargain.
"Do you think that Miss Kidder was having fun with it?" asked "Bawlie."
"Well, old chap, give me the details," was Arthur's response.

"You see, I had my bull terrier with me, and I said to her, 'That dog knows as much as I do.' And she said, 'Don't you think $4.00 was too much to pay for him?'"—Cleveland Leader.

The Chinese Hoe.
The Chinese farmer stands second to none in all the world. This is all the more remarkable since he has really no implements with which to work the marvelous he produces. His only implements are the hoe, the plow and the harrow. Beyond these the Chinese farmer never dreams of desiring any other. The first of these tools seems never to be out of his hands, for it is the one upon which he relies the most and is his most effective implement. It really takes the place of the spade in England, though the latter is never put to such extensive and general uses as the hoe. The Chinaman can do anything with it but make it speak. A farmer well on in years can easily be recognized amidst a number of workmen by the curve his hands have taken from holding the hoe in the many years of toil in his fields. With it, if he is a poor man and has no oxen to plow the ground, he turns up the soil where he is going to plant his crops, and with it he deftly and with a turn of his wrist levels out the surface so that it is made ready for the seed. With a broad bladed hoe he dips to the bottom of a stream or of a pond, draws up the soft mud that has gathered there and, with a dexterous swing, flings the dripping handful on to his field nearby to increase its richness by this new deposit.—London King

Extract of Knowledge.
An article on "Examination Humor" in a periodical called Normal Echoes contains some good "howlers." There are none the less interesting for coming from students in training for teaching. A criticism of William Blake that "as a child he was precocious in poetry, but in later years it developed into dogmatism," is a lesson in the art of being forthright, while the remark that "the works of the time were mostly 'satires' is quaint, though obvious. Of course there is something over proper names. There is nothing, indeed, so good as the description of Cromwell as 'a man with coarse features and having a large red nose, with deep religious convictions beneath,' who, having by way of exception attended church, admitted to the rector's wife that he had benefited for he had learned that Sodom and Gomorrah were two cities, whereas he had always thought they were man and wife."—Manchester Guardian.

Fat and Disease.
If the Medical Record is right, man is pursuing in the matter of bodily weight what is bad for him, a common trick, and woman pursues for a physical ideal that would mean long life if achieved, something rare indeed for women to do. Most men struggle to be fat. Most women diet to be lean. Dr. Brandreth Symonds draws from a study of life insurance weights that people past the age of thirty live longer if below normal weight than they do if at or above standard. Heart disease is as rare among the underfat as it is common with the heavy folk, and this is true also of Bright's disease, apoplexy, paralysis, cerebral congestions and cirrhosis of the liver. Only in pneumonia and tuberculosis do the underweights carry a greater risk. In all the cases which he examined Dr. Symonds found not a single fat man who reached the age of eighty years, while forty-four short weights passed this mark.

The Best Prize.
A titled Englishman while in Newport talked most entertainingly to a group of ladies about ancestral pride. "Ancestral pride is an excellent thing," he said, "but there are better things. We have long felt in Great Britain that there are better things. I heard the sentiment rather recently expressed last season by a duchess. Here is a great family, but she was talking to a young marquess whose family is incomparably greater. He is a rather worthless, lazy, dissipated young marquis, and he boasted to the duchess about his people."

"I am very proud of my ancestry," he said.

"Yes," said the duchess, "and you have cause to be, but I wonder how your ancestry would feel about you?"

The London county council has been advertising for sale "a number of disused house tram cars," suitable for "bungalows, houseboats, portable buildings, tool and garden sheds, contractors' offices, cycle and motor houses and for use on farms, potato fields, hop fields, football and cricket grounds."

The more husbands a woman has had the more bones she makes about packing up and leaving one of them.

Harvesting Lovers' Wheat.
Chicago, June 28.—Generally favorable weather for harvesting in the south-east caused a moderate slump in wheat prices on board of freight today following a fairly steady tone at the start. The September and December delivery displayed the greatest weakness and declined nearly a cent from the high point of the day. Firm cables and a decrease of nearly 4,000,000 in the amount of bread stuff on ocean passage were chiefly responsible for steadiness at the opening when prices were 1/4c lower to 1/2c higher. July, which opened at $1.15 1/2 to $1.16, sold up to $1.16 1/2 and then declined to $1.15 1/2.

Corn was inclined to follow the course of wheat and weakened after opening quite firm. The continuance of unsettled weather throughout the corn belt was the chief bullish influence. July, which opened at 70 1/2c, declined to 69 1/2c, and then to 69 1/4c. In wheat prices were 1/4c higher to 1/2c higher. July, which opened at $1.15 1/2 to $1.16, sold up to $1.16 1/2 and then declined to $1.15 1/2.

The weakness of wheat had a depressing effect on the oats market early in the day. Prices at the start were a shade higher to 1/4c lower; July opening at 59 1/2c. Provisions were weak. Prices at the opening were 1/2c to 1/4c higher.

SLOW PROGRESS MADE TODAY IN THE TRIAL OF GEIGER CASE

Secret Officer Ernst Principal Witness of the Day.

ADMISSION OF SOME EVIDENCE

Causes Numerous Delays for the Ruling of the Court.

In the trial of the Geiger case, slow progress was made and little new matter developed. The object of both sides to the admission of certain evidence caused numerous delays, awaiting the decision of the court and for the attorneys to enter their supporting testimony. Secret Officer Ernst was the principal witness of the day, and his testimony served more to verify that of his brother in reference to the facts of the case than to develop any new matter. It is probable that the state will rest its case today and the defense will begin its evidence Tuesday morning.

Monday Morning Session.
Court opened at 9:45 o'clock, and the state resumed its case, calling Nelson Nelson to the stand. Witness testified that he saw Geiger come from the direction of E. Gale's livery shop frequently during the months of February and March, and go to the latter jewelry store. That Andy Ernst stationed himself in the witness store frequently and would sit with an Enquirer in front of him with a hole in it through which he appeared to be watching some one.

Andy Ernst, Allen county secret service officer, was next called. Said he was known to Geiger for fifteen years. Also has known John W. Beane for about two and one half years. Witness told of watching his brother H. B. Ernst and Thos. Swamy when they made three trips to the Geiger home, under instructions of Judge Wm. Klingler.

Witness was present at Cooper's room in Norval Hotel when H. B. Ernst and Thos. Swamy returned from Geiger home and delivered the $25 secured for the defense of Henderson and Martin.

Witness saw Geiger go up stairway leading to Beane's office often during the months of December, 1908, and January and February 1909.

Witness and Deputy Sheriff Baxter arrested Geiger upon the indictment and found him standing at the foot of the stairway leading to Beane's office.

Upon cross-examination witness told of his former business, before occupying his present position, which included running a snake show.

The testimony of Ernst failed to develop any new matter.

A recess of ten minutes was taken at 11:10 o'clock.

Attorneys for the defense endeavored to show upon cross-examination of Officer Ernst, who deserved the honor for the capture of the Youkum robbers. The court notified counsel that he did not care about who deserved the credit.

Court recessed until 1:30 o'clock.

Monday Afternoon
Court opened at 1:45 o'clock with Mr. Ernst on the stand. The witness was asked a few questions in redirect examination, which resulted in more legal arguments, as to the admission of evidence. Ernst was examined at 2:10 o'clock.

Charles Herbert was next called by the state.

Witness stated that he is engaged in the merchant tailoring business in the northeast corner of the square, and saw Geiger going toward and coming away from the stairway leading to Beane's office in December, 1908, and January, 1909.

At this juncture the prosecutor stated that one of the state's witnesses was Charles Van Atta, of Fort Lorain, had failed to appear on the ground of illness and that an officer had located Foster and found the witness was not known to his home. Upon request of Mr. West, the court issued an attachment for Mr. Van Atta, which was placed in the hands of the sheriff for execution.

Mr. Herbert reiterated his statements made in examination in reference to seeing Geiger go to and from the stairway leading to Beane's office. Mr. Herbert was excused at 4 o'clock.

Court Stenographer W. M. Scott was next called by the state.

BRICE VS. RICE

Charles Street Residents Alarmed at Change.

Residents of north Charles street were rather frightened when the advertisement for bids for paving the various streets came out and they saw that the paving advertisement on Charles was only one block, from Wayne street to Brice avenue. Each and every petition had read "To Rice avenue" and those residing north of Brice were becoming alarmed and thought their paving was becoming a vision.

The change proved to be only a clerical error as all the previous legislation had been made to include the street up to Rice avenue.

REV. TODD CHOSEN

To Fill Office of Moderator Left Vacant by Rev. Gordon.

Gordon.

REV. ROBERTS WILL SOON LEAVE

Lima Presbytery and Governor Village for New Pastorate in Michigan.

The midsummer meeting of the Lima Presbytery convened this morning at the Market Street Presbyterian Church. Though four meetings per year are scheduled for the Presbytery the ones held in midwinter and in summer are simply short business sessions, designed to take care of the necessary business that has come up during the intervening months since the last meeting.

An excellent representation of the ministers of the Presbytery with a smaller number of laymen arrived to the city this morning for the meeting. Rev. Gordon, of Van Wert, moderator of the Presbytery, occupied the chair, and Mr. Jones, of Venedonia, took his usual place as secretary of the session.

One of the most important items of business was the receiving of two young men under the care of Presbytery who intend to enter the ministry. These are two brothers, of Scott, Ohio, near Van Wert, and they are Hugh Evans and Lester S. Evans.

Another important piece of business was the dismissal of Rev. John Roberts, of Gomer, from the Lima Presbytery to the Huron Presbytery, as Rev. Roberts leaves north for his new duties at the pastorate of Erie, Mich. The pastoral relation between Rev. D. S. Strawn and the Middlebrook church was dissolved by act of Presbytery, and another question that came up for action was the choosing of a new moderator to take the place of Rev. Gordon, who leaves in a few days for Texas on a leave of absence of six months. Rev. M. E. Todd, of St. Marys, was chosen to fill this position of honor by his brother ministers.

HUSBAND SUES

For Divorce and Custody of Children.

Frank Kuzer is the plaintiff in an action for divorce filed against Mrs. Mabel, in which the petition states that they were married April 20, 1908, and one child was born to the union.

He charges that the defendant abandoned him on January 20, 1909, and since February 20, 1909, has had the custody of the child.

On June 10, 1909, defendant filed an affidavit in domestic court charging him with non-support since which time he has paid $2 a week for the support of the child.

When 70 per cent of cerium is alloyed with 30 per cent of iron the metal thus produced possesses the remarkable property of giving off a shower of sparks when struck lightly by a steel wheel. This substance has been employed for making auto ignitors, for gas burners, miners' acetylene lamps and cigar lighters. Recently it has been proposed to utilize it for igniting motor head lights and even as a substitute for the dangerous and expensive remedies.
